

IDLE MEDICAL CENTRE

This practice can share your patient record with other clinicians. This means everyone who is caring for you can be fully informed about your medical history, including your medication and allergies.

To discuss who can and can't see your record - and to give consent to share your information - speak to your GP today.

